

I have recently fallen deeply in love with Ansible; thanks largely to my new position at Fresh Consulting. As such I've found it incredibly fun to tinker and learn in my spare time and recently decided to tackle PHP7 for a variety of reasons. My pet project CamelotHub was a perfect playground, and I've managed to take a playbook from phansible and modify it to build a stable LEMP stack using PHP7, PHP7-FPM, and NGINX 1.9+
